

CLASSROOM NEWS

Week of May 20-24, 2024

Reading:

This week, we will learning about the 'ing ending. We add 'ing to verbs when we are talking about actions that continuously happen in the present or past. When a verb has the 'ing ending, a helping verb comes before it. (I am going. He is going, We are going. etc) -ing is pronounce like at the end of the word sing. This week, the scholarly students will read The Frogs, We Love Camp and Jo's Friend Russ.

Show & Tell:

Kid's choice.

Math:

This week we will use rulers to measure and determine whether to measure in feet or inches. We will measure objects using feet or inches. We will also talk about the order of the days of the week and review seasons and months while talking about whose birthday is in which month.

Bible Lesson:

This week, we will read about Lydia. Lydia heard Paul share God's Word about Jesus. She was baptized and welcomed Paul to her home. God wants all people to come to faith in Jesus and to be saved. He makes us His children as the Holy Spirit works faith in us through His word and in Baptism.

Important Dates:

May 27 Memorial Day No School
June 4 Pajama Day
June 7 Last Day of School, ½ day

We are counting down the days until the end of school. The children will not know what happens each day until they get to school, but you need to know so they can have what they need. June 4 is PJ day. I'll cover the rest of the surprises!
